LECCIÓN CASAVALLE

Don Sr Luis Varela

I find it utterly impossible to get into town to read the translation with you - My two Capataces have got badly injured & I am alone to attend to the work state cure of the place - Can you not come out to me, & spend a couple of days - Say come out of a morning & return the next afternoon, we can then get through the whole that you have translated

- The road is straight - cross the Barraca Bridge & follow the Telegraph wires, for 4 leagues, until you come to the Almacén Bella Vista which is "linderos" with my land.

By the way translate for the Tribune the two letters of "Trade" which are in the "Standard" - the 1st letter was in Sunday's "Standard" - 20th January - & the 2nd letter will be in today's or tomorrow's Standard. My an on the Bank Exchange office

There are two errors of type in the 1st letter which would require to be noted for translator - one in the 2nd line from bottom of first column - for "of the Bank is made by its dependence read - of the Bank itself, would be made by "a dependant"

49th line 2nd column for "discover" read "deceive"

They are important letters & will ~~produce~~ published, (in translation) in the "Tribuna" save you Brother Don Mariano will -

Tell Don Mariano that I have talk of a "credit" being sought by the Bank, in London with a view to back up the conversion of the currency & that I know of such an arrangement having been tried by the "St Petersburg" Bank - Russia - which signally failed - the whole thing collapsed on the first tightness of the London money market - It is a dangerous & unsatisfactory "make shift" way of going to work -

Tell him to read attentively the letters in the Standard signed "Trader" which I suggest you should translate for the Tribune.

Place me at the feet of your good lady & sister

Adieu me yours truly
